[Approach to Ensure Diversity]

We believe that diversity, represented by our employees from approximately 90 nationalities working in various countries and regions around the world at Nomura, helps improve our competitiveness, innovation, and advanced risk management. In July 2016, we adopted our “Declaration on Diversity and Inclusion” initiative and have since been committed to enhancing our work environment through measures such as introducing hourly paid leave and partnership program. We believe that 'diversity strengthens an organization' at the core of our values and aim to create a workplace where each of us feels a sense of belonging when we are valued and respected for who we are.

Regarding the promotion of female employees to managerial positions, the Nomura Group and its major domestic subsidiaries have set numerical targets and are promoting various initiatives. Regarding the promotion of mid-career and overseas employees to managerial positions, since Nomura Group already has employees with diverse careers, backgrounds and values, as a result of the above initiatives, the Company does not intend to set specific targets in terms of promoting employees especially with these attributes in management, however appoints management positions by considering their abilities and performance, regardless of nationality or whether they are hired by mid-career recruitment.

<Action to Implement Management That is Conscious of Cost of Capital and Stock Price>

Content of Disclosure: Disclosure of Initiatives (Update)

Availability of English Disclosure: Available

Date of Disclosure Update: January 29, 2026

We aim for a business model that can consistently deliver return on equity (ROE) of 8 to 10 percent or higher toward 2030 while capitalizing on business opportunities globally. We have set a target of over 500 billion yen of income before income taxes. As a financial institution based in Japan, we see its cost of equity to be at around 8 percent, and its mission is to deliver returns to shareholders that are greater than the cost of equity. However, ROE may be of limited use in that it does not necessarily reflect financial soundness. In order to avoid the excessive pursuit of capital efficiency with the aim of improving ROE at the expense of financial soundness, we attach importance to the creation of corporate value, giving due consideration to financial soundness, and thereby improving ROE. In order to achieve income before income taxes of over 500 billion yen, we have to promote sustainable growth of our existing businesses while exploring new opportunities for revenues and ensuring financial discipline.

The relationship between PBR and ROE is expressed as $PBR = ROE / (\text{Cost of Equity} - \text{Expected Growth Rate})$. As of December 31, 2025, the Company's PBR had improved to 1.1 times. Additionally, efforts to maximize the absolute level of ROE are gradually producing results. The ROE for the fiscal year ended March 2024 was 5.1 percent, whereas the ROE for the fiscal year ended March 2025 and for the first half of the fiscal year ended March 2026 have improved to 10.0 percent and 11.3 percent, respectively.

As we head to 2030, we will continue our initiatives to achieve and stably maintain an ROE of 8 to 10 percent or higher, as well as income before income taxes of over 500 billion yen, aiming to further enhance corporate value.

The Company holds 50.5%* of voting rights (as of March 31, 2025, the same shall apply hereafter) of Sugimura Warehouse Co., Ltd. (Industry Sector: Warehousing & Harbor Transportation Services. Hereinafter referred to as "Sugimura Warehouse"), a company listed on the Standard Market of the Tokyo Stock Exchange, making it a consolidated subsidiary. In addition, the Company holds 23.0%* of the voting rights of Nomura Research Institute, Ltd. (Industry Sector: Information & Communication.

Hereinafter referred to as “NRI”) and 37.2% of the voting rights of Nomura Real Estate Holdings, Inc. (Industry Sector: Real estate. Hereinafter referred to as “Nomura Real Estate Holdings”), both listed on the Prime Market of Tokyo Stock Exchange, making them equity-method affiliates. (The above three companies are collectively referred to as the “Listed Companies”.)

*Including the portion held by the Nomura Group

Although the Nomura Group consists of the Company, the holding company, and its consolidated subsidiaries primarily engaged in businesses related to financial services, and pursues integrated business operations under the unified strategic focus as “Nomura Group”, the Company is not directly involved in the decision-making process of the listed subsidiary, Sugimura Warehouse, from the standpoint of protecting its minority shareholders and respecting its autonomy and independence. In addition, NRI and Nomura Real Estate Holdings, listed affiliated companies, are independent companies outside the Nomura Group, and the Company is not directly involved in their decision-making processes. The Company expresses its opinions on their management through the exercise of its voting rights at their General Meetings of Shareholders. As for resolutions to be submitted to the General Meetings of Shareholders including proposals for the appointment and dismissal of Directors, the Company decides whether to vote for from the perspective of whether each resolution contributes to the enhancement of the corporate value of the Listed Companies or not.

In addition, the Company and any Listed Company have not concluded important agreements that could affect the Listed Company’s governance, and they share management policies and strategies, etc., through the collaborative relationship to the extent necessary. Regarding the governance structure of the Listed Companies, please refer to the disclosure materials of the Listed Companies, including their Corporate Governance Reports.

[Listed subsidiary]

Sugimura Warehouse, a consolidated subsidiary of the Company, engages in logistics business centered around cargo storage, cargo handling, and freight car transportation. The Company made Nomura Land and Building Co., Ltd. (current Nomura Properties, Inc. which holds shares in Sugimura Warehouse) a consolidated subsidiary in May 2011, as the result of which Sugimura Warehouse also became a consolidated subsidiary. Sugimura Warehouse develops its business, maintaining a cooperative relationship with Nomura Properties Inc. (a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company), which provides facility management services to the Nomura Group. Sugimura Warehouse contributes to the stabilization of the business performance of the Nomura Group through its operations in a business environment different from that of Nomura Group’s main businesses.

Since it was listed in 1949 on the Osaka Securities Exchange, whose spot market was integrated into the Tokyo Stock Exchange in 2013, Sugimura Warehouse has been maintaining its listing. The Company believes that, even if considering the costs of maintaining the listing, etc., there is sufficient rationale for maintaining Sugimura Warehouse as a publicly listed subsidiary mainly from the perspective of improvement of corporate value through enhancement of its name recognition and social credibility, securing flexible financing methods, expansion of business partners, maintenance and improvement of employee motivation, and securing talented personnel.

Matters relating to the independence of Directors and employees from Executive Officers

The Company has established the Office of Non-Executive Directors and Audit Committee as an organization to support Audit Committee and Directors' execution of duties. The Audit Committee or an Audit Committee member elected by the Audit Committee performs personal evaluations of the staff employees working in the Office of Non-Executive Directors and Audit Committee, and grants consent for recruitments, transfers, and discipline of employees serving in the Office of Non-Executive Directors and Audit Committee. Further, non-executive full-time Directors may be appointed as a full-time Member of the Audit Committee or an Audit Mission Director in order to enhance the effectiveness of audit work.

Cooperation between the Audit Committee members, Independent Auditor, and the Internal Audit Division

【Coordination between Audit Committee and Internal Audit】

In order to ensure effective and adequate internal controls, the Company has established the Internal Audit Division which is independent from the business execution functions and reports directly to the Audit Committee. The Group Internal Audit Department placed in the Company as well as similar internal audit units placed in its major subsidiaries conduct internal audits across the Nomura Group.

The Audit Committee receives reports timely from the Internal Audit Division throughout the year. The main reported items include the result of each audit, development/operation of internal audit organization, the progress of internal audits, key issues and trends relating to the overall internal control identified through internal audit activities, the internal audit implementation plan within the fiscal year and any changes thereto, as well as matters to be referred to the Audit Committee for approval. Notable matters on the status of the Internal Audit Division are included in the regular reports from the Audit Committee to the Board of Directors.

Regarding the proposed annual internal audit plan (including its changes) budget, and performance objectives of the Internal Audit Division, the consent of the Audit Committee is required. In addition, the Audit Committee is coordinating with the Group Internal Audit Head by requesting the formulation of the internal audit annual plan based on key audit points that are considered necessary for confirmation in the future. Furthermore, in addition to reports to the Audit committee, key issues and trends relating to the overall internal control identified through internal audit activities are reported monthly from the Internal Audit Division to the full-time Audit Committee member and Audit Mission Directors of Nomura Securities.

<Coordination between Audit Committee and Accounting Auditor>

Ernst & Young ShinNihon LLC is appointed as the Company's Accounting Auditor. The Audit Committee has the authority to approve their annual audit plan, receives reports and explanations from them on their financial audits at least once quarterly, exchanges information with them from time to time, reviews their audit methods and the appropriateness of their audit results and examines financial statements and other relevant documents.

<Coordination between Audit Committee, Internal Audit and Accounting Auditor>

As mentioned above, the Audit Committee receives reports from the Group Internal Audit Head and the accounting auditor, while the Group Internal Audit Head attends almost all committee meetings and the accounting auditor participates in interviews conducted by the Audit Committee, ensuring mutual coordination.

In addition, the Chairperson of the Audit Committee and the full-time Audit Committee member hold monthly meetings (regular tri-party audit meetings) with the accounting auditor, the Audit Mission Directors of Nomura Securities and the Group Internal Audit Head primarily to share information and exchange views on various topics including audit-related issue awareness, control environment and domestic and foreign regulatory trends.

<Incentives and Remuneration>

Implementation of Initiatives to offer Incentives to Directors and Executive Officers

Introduction of a performance-linked remuneration system, introduction of stock option plans and others

Supplementary Explanation

Pursuant to the Basic Nomura Group Compensation Policy (the "Basic Policy") and Compensation Policy for Directors and Executive Officers of Nomura Holdings, Inc. (the "Policy for Statutory Officers") (Please refer to II.1. "Remuneration of Directors and Executive Officers") set by the Compensation Committee. Compensation of Directors and Executive Officers is divided into fixed compensation and performance-linked compensation, with fixed compensation consisting of base salary and performance-linked compensation consisting of an annual bonus and long-term incentive plans. In order to provide incentives for the improvement of medium to long-term corporate value and to align the interests of shareholders, a portion of the compensation is paid through stock-based compensation awards with specified deferral periods.

(1) Determination method of compensation

With respect to the President and the Group CEO, given the overall responsibility of business execution of the Nomura Group, the basic amount of the Performance-Linked Compensation is calculated based on the level of achievement in actual value(s) against the target value(s) of key performance indicator(s) and performance metrics that form the basis for their calculation. In addition, Total Compensation, including fixed compensation and performance-linked compensation, is determined by considering, as needed, qualitative evaluation competitor benchmarking etc. by the Compensation Committee.

With respect to the Directors and the Executive Officers, their Annual Bonus and Total Compensation are determined based on the ones of the Group CEO, reflecting individual roles and responsibilities, respective jurisdiction's regulations and compensation level etc. in addition to the qualitative elements.

(2) Calculation method of the Performance-Linked Compensation

Quantitative elements

In order to ensure alignment with Nomura Group’s management vision and business strategy, we select key performance indicators and performance metrics that form the basis for its calculation. Additionally, we choose stock price-related indicators to promote alignment of interests with shareholders.

[Profit and loss]

- Net revenue: ¥ 1,892.5 billion
- Revenue cost coverage ratio⁽¹⁾: 75.1%
- Income before income taxes: ¥ 472.0 billion

[Per share information] Earnings per Share (“EPS”): ¥ 111.03

[Capital efficiency] ROE: 10.0%

[Shareholder returns] Total Shareholder Return (“TSR”) ⁽²⁾: 98.7%

(Notes)

1. Ratio calculated by dividing Total non-interest expenses by Net revenue
2. The value obtained by dividing the total of fluctuations in the price of NHI shares and dividends in the current fiscal year by the NHI share price at the end of the previous business year.

Qualitative elements

To promote enhancement of Nomura Group’s corporate value and the realization of a sustainable society, we have selected strategic management, as well as initiatives related to community, talent, and inclusion, as evaluation criteria.

(3) Annual Bonus of Director of the audit committee member and Outside Directors

Audit Committee members and Outside Directors are not bonus-eligible in order to maintain and ensure their independence from business execution.

(4) Stock Based Compensation as Non-Monetary Compensation

Half of the aggregate amount of the Annual Bonus of the Statutory Officers is paid in deferred compensation and in principle, we use RSUs that qualify as non-cash compensation. Furthermore, the Company has introduced PSUs as a long-term incentive plan.

(5) Outline of current Deferred Compensation Awards.

Restricted Stock Units (“RSUs”)

- Introduced as the main form of Deferred Compensation since the fiscal year ended March 31, 2018.
- Settled in the Company’s common stock.
- Graded vesting period is set as three years in principle.

Notional Stock Units (“NSUs”)

- Linked to the price of the Company’s common stock Cash-settled in local currency.
- Graded vesting period is set as three years in principle.

Performance Share Units (“PSUs”)

- Introduced as the Long-Term Incentive Plan since the year ended March 31, 2024.
- The number of shares to be awarded will be determined based on the degree of achievement of the performance targets of the three fiscal years.
- Performance evaluation period is set as three years or more in principle.

(6) Effect of payment of deferred compensation as equity-related compensation

By providing deferred compensation as equity-linked compensation, the economic value of the compensation is linked to the stock price of Nomura, and a certain vesting period is set.

- Alignment of interests with shareholders.
- Clawbacks for voluntary resignation and material breach of our internal policies.
- Medium-term incentives and retention by providing an opportunity for the economic value of Deferred Compensation at the time of grant to be increased by a rise in shares during a period of time from grant to vesting.
- Promotion of cross-divisional collaboration and cooperation by providing a common goal of increasing corporate value over the medium to long term.

Due to these benefits, the active use of Deferred Compensation is also recommended by regulators in the key jurisdictions in which we operate.

With respect to Deferred Compensation in Nomura, a deferral period is generally three or more years from the following fiscal year or later. This is in line with the “Principles for Sound Compensation Practices” issued by the Financial Stability Board which recommends, among other things, a deferral period of three or more years.

Persons Eligible for Stock Options	Inside Directors, Executive Officers, employees, Directors/employees of subsidiaries

Supplementary Explanation

The Company has two types of SAR plans to maintain incentives for high levels of performance and to recruit talented staff. The exercise price for SAR Plan A is determined based on the market price when issued, and the exercise price of SAR Plan B is 1 yen per share. Following the introduction of RSU awards instead of core deferral awards and all supplemental awards, no new SAR awards were granted since the fiscal year ended March 31, 2018.

Compensation Policy

The Company has developed “Basic Nomura Group Compensation Policy,” “Compensation Policy for Directors and Executive Officers of Nomura Holdings, Inc.” and “Nomura Group Compensation Policy for Employees” to enable the Nomura Group to achieve sustainable growth, realize a long-term increase in shareholder value, deliver client excellence, compete in a global market and enhance our reputation. The Compensation Committee reviews and updates these policies.

Separately, the Company has established Compensation Policy for Nomura Group officers and employees, including Senior Managing Directors of the Company and Directors of its subsidiaries but excluding Directors and Executive officers of the Company.

The Company has established “Basic Nomura Group Compensation Policy,” “Compensation Policy for Directors and Executive Officers of Nomura Holdings, Inc.” and “Nomura Group Compensation Policy for Employees” as follows:

< “Basic Policy” >

Compensation Governance

As a company with three Board Committees, as defined under Japanese corporate law, NHI has established an independent statutory Compensation Committee, which comprises primarily Outside Directors as members. The Committee has established both our Basic Policy and our Compensation Policy for Statutory Officers, based on which compensation for Directors and Executive Officers of NHI is determined.

With respect to the relevant policies and total compensation for our officers and employees other than NHI’s Statutory Officers, decisions regarding employment and remuneration matters are delegated to our “Human Resources Committee” (“HRC”) by the Executive Management Board of NHI. The HRC is chaired by the Group CEO and an individual appointed by the chairman, taking into account financial and risk management perspectives. The HRC determines above matters with support from respective remuneration committees in each region.

The HRC establishes the Compensation Recovery Policy of NHI to comply with, among others, the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and determines matters with respect to compensation of covered officers who are statutory officers of NHI under Japanese law, and is responsible for the management, operation, interpretation and administration of such.

Compensation Policies and Practices for Nomura Group’s talent

We recognize that our employees are key in pursuing our Purpose, which is “We aspire to create a better world by harnessing the power of financial markets”.

Compensation for Nomura Group's Talent is designed to support achieving sustainable corporate growth, increasing corporate value over the medium and long-term and maintaining sound and effective risk management, while contributing to the interest of our shareholders. In addition, to ensure that we attract, retain, motivate and develop talent, the level and structure of remuneration takes into account the roles and responsibilities of individuals as well as the market pay levels in Japan and overseas, and in line with any relevant laws and regulatory expectations.

1) Sustainable corporate growth and increasing enterprise value over the medium and long-term

Our employee compensation policies aim to reinforce our corporate philosophy, to promote healthy corporate culture and behavior in line with our "Code of Conduct" and to align to our commitment to "Sustainability" considerations.

Based on a pay-for-performance principle, our employee compensation programs are designed to be sound and competitive in the market and aligned to our strategic objectives and the goal of sustainable growth and increasing corporate value over the medium and long-term.

2) Sound and effective risk management

We seek to maintain sound and effective risk management with an appropriate risk appetite. We update performance measurement metrics and indicators used for determining compensation by considering both financial and non-financial risks underlying each business. Qualitative factors such as conduct, compliance, professional ethics and corporate philosophy are also considered in determining the final amount of remuneration provided to each officer and employee, which may include a reduction in compensation as a result of disciplinary actions.

In addition, when granting compensation, it shall be specified that in the event of a material revision of financial statements or a material violation of applicable laws and regulations or Nomura Group rules and policies, compensation may be subject to reduction, suspension, forfeiture of rights, cancellation, offset by other compensation, or re-payment (so-called "clawback").

3) Alignment of interests with shareholders

Certain of our officers' and employees' remuneration packages include stock-based compensation awards linked to the share price of NHI with an appropriate deferral period applied, in order to align with shareholders' interests.

Approval and Revision of the Basic Policy

The approval, amendment or repeal of the Basic Policy are governed by our Compensation Committee of NHI.

< "Policy for Statutory Officers." >

Compensation of Directors and Executive Officers is divided into fixed compensation and performance-linked compensation, with fixed compensation consisting of base salary and performance-linked compensation consisting of an annual bonus and long-term incentive plans. In order to provide incentives for the improvement of medium to long-term corporate value and to align the interests of shareholders, a portion of the compensation is paid through stock-based compensation awards with specified deferral periods.

<Composition of Compensation for Directors and Executives>

Fixed Compensation: Base salary

Performance-linked Compensation: Annual Bonuses and Long-term Incentive Plan

Fixed Compensation

- Base salary is paid in cash and determined based on factors such as professional background, career history, responsibilities and compensation standards of related business fields.

Performance-linked Compensation

- With respect to the Group CEO, given the overall responsibility of business execution of the Nomura Group, the basic amount of the performance-linked compensation is calculated based on the level of achievement in actual value(s) against the target value(s) of key performance indicator(s) and performance metrics that form the basis for their calculation. In addition, qualitative evaluation of competitor benchmarking is also reflected when determining the final annual bonus amount.
- With respect to Directors and other Executive Officers, the amount of annual bonus is determined with the annual bonus of Group CEO as standard baseline, taking into consideration roles and responsibilities, local remuneration regulations and compensation levels in each jurisdiction etc., in addition to a qualitative evaluation of individual performance.
- Audit Committee members and Outside Directors are not bonus-eligible in order to maintain and ensure their independence from business execution.

a) Annual Bonuses

In principle, a certain portion of any annual bonus payment should be deferred.

b) Long-term Incentive Plan

Payments under long-term incentive plans are made when a certain degree of achievements are accomplished. Payments are made in stock-based compensation awards.

When granting compensation, in the event of voluntary resignation, a material revision of financial statements or a material violation of applicable laws and regulations or Nomura Group rules and policies, compensation of Directors and Executive Officers may be subject to reduction, suspension, forfeiture of rights, cancellation, offset by other compensation, or re-payment (so-called “clawback”).

< “Employees Policy”>

Based on our “Basic Policy”, we have established our Employee Policy which applies to our officers and employees, including Senior Managing Directors of NHI and directors of subsidiaries of NHI but excluding our Statutory Officers of NHI.

Matters not provided for in our Employee Policy are governed by the provisions of our Basic Policy.

Compensation Governance

Supervised by the HRC, regional committees governing employee compensation are composed of representatives of Finance, Risk Management, Compliance, Human Resources, and other departments as appropriate. These regional committees implement our global compensation governance rules.

The proposed compensation of control function departments (such as Risk Management, Compliance, and Internal Audit) is not permitted to be determined by our front office business and performance evaluation of employees in these departments is not permitted to be determined solely by performance of the business supported by the individuals.

Compensation Policies and Practices

We recognize that our employees are key in pursuing our Purpose, which is “We aspire to create a better world by harnessing the power of financial markets”.

Compensation for our employees is designed to support achieving sustainable corporate growth, increasing corporate value over the medium and long-term and maintaining sound and effective risk management, while at the same time positively contributing to the interest of our shareholders. In addition, to ensure that we attract, retain, motivate and develop talent, the level and structure of remuneration takes into account the roles and responsibilities of individuals as well as market pay levels in Japan and overseas, in line with any relevant laws and regulatory expectations.

1) Sustainable Corporate Growth and Increasing Corporate Value Over the Medium and Long-Term

The compensation policies for our employees aim to embody the Purpose which is “We aspire to create a better world by harnessing the power of financial markets” and our “Values of Entrepreneurial Leadership, Teamwork and Integrity”, to promote a healthy, diverse corporate culture and the right behavior in line with our “Code of Conduct” and to facilitate a greater alignment with “Sustainability” considerations.

Based on a pay-for-performance principle, our compensation programs are designed to be sound and competitive in the market and aligned to our strategic objectives and the goal of sustainable growth and increasing corporate value over the medium and long-term.

Compensation at Nomura reflects and aligns with the performance of the Nomura Group as a whole, its divisions, as well as individual employees, taking into account both business strategy and market considerations.

2) Sound and Effective Risk Management

We seek to maintain sound and effective risk management with an appropriate risk appetite. We apply its performance measurement standards and indicators when determining compensation, considering both financial and non-financial risks in each business, taking a holistic approach. Qualitative factors such as conduct, compliance, professional ethics and corporate philosophy are considered in determining the final amount of remuneration provided to each officer and employee, which may include a reduction in compensation. Risk Management, Compliance and Finance divisions provide key inputs into the overall risk and performance assessment to ensure appropriate consideration of these factors.

The compensation package offered to our employees comprises two key elements:

- Fixed compensation – reflects the role, responsibilities and experience of the employee; and
- Performance-linked compensation – designed to incentivize performance, encourage the right behaviors and drive employee growth and development. For higher paid employees, a portion of variable compensation may be deferred, balancing short-term with our medium and long-term interests.

We seek to balance the components of compensation between fixed and variable according to the employee's role and seniority. In principle, the proportion of compensation that is deferred increases with the employee's compensation. Guaranteed compensation is allowed only in limited circumstances such as for new hires or, where allowed, strategic business needs. Multi-year guarantees are typically prohibited.

In addition, when granting compensation, it shall be specified that in the event of a material revision of financial statements or a material violation of applicable laws and regulations or Nomura Group rules and policies, employees' compensation may be subject to reduction, suspension, forfeiture of rights, cancellation, offset by other compensation, or re-payment (so-called "clawback").

3) Alignment of Interests with Shareholders

Deferred variable compensation intends to align the interests of employees and NHI shareholders, and to encourage a long-term, sustainable approach to senior management and highly paid employees. For Nomura Group employees who receive a certain amount of remuneration, a portion of the remuneration is stock-based compensation awards linked to the price of NHI shares with an appropriate deferral period applicable, in order to align with shareholders' interests.

Approval and Revision of the Employee Policy

The approval, amendment or repeal of the Employee Policy can be made by our HRC.
