NOMURA

Notice of Convocation of the 122nd Annual General Meeting of Shareholders

Nomura Holdings, Inc.

To Our Shareholders,

I would like to express my sincerest gratitude for your continued support.

Over the past fiscal year, while the global economy benefited from shifts in monetary policy and increased investment in AI and digital technologies, the market environment remained uncertain due to heightened geopolitical risks and rising protectionism.

International financial markets also saw significant changes, reflecting the evolving perceptions of the U.S. dollar, rising gold prices, and growing interest in digital assets, including stablecoins.

Since the start of 2026, geopolitical tensions have intensified in the Middle East, further adding to global economic uncertainty. At the same time, it has become increasingly important to manage new financial risks, including concerns over private credit and cyber risk.

In Japan, the stock market rose sharply, supported by expectations for the new administration, progress in household asset building through the new NISA scheme, efforts by Japanese companies to enhance the profitability, and ongoing governance reforms. Although domestic markets have been affected by geopolitical risks, rising commodity prices, currency movements, and changes in the global political and economic environment, we believe that Japan's fundamentals are generally strong.

We continued to focus on expanding into private markets to complement our public businesses, providing customized services and solutions to individual clients. In May 2024, we set out our 2030 management vision of "Reaching for Sustainable Growth." We have made steady progress toward our specific targets of consistently achieving ROE of 8 to 10 percent or more and generating pretax income of over 500 billion yen.

For the full year, we reported group net revenue of 2,167.7 billion yen, pretax income of 539.8 billion yen, and net income attributable to NHI shareholders of 362.1 billion yen. This performance reflects solid progress in our medium to long-term efforts to accelerate the implementation of our recurring revenue business model, grow our stable revenue base, and deepen our global strategy. Full-year ROE was 10.1 percent and net income reached a record high for the second consecutive year.

Based on our dividend policy, we declared a year-end dividend of 24 yen per share for shareholders of record as of March 31, 2026. Combined with the interim dividend, this translates to an annual dividend of 51 yen per share.

As a result of our business transformation initiatives, profitability improved and our operating platform became even stronger. In light of this, we have decided to revise the numerical targets in our 2030 management vision. We will strive to consistently achieve ROE of 10 to 12 percent or more and pretax income of over 750 billion yen to improve capital efficiency and drive sustainable growth.

Our Purpose is "We aspire to create a better world by harnessing the power of financial markets". We will work together as a group to increase our corporate value and put our Purpose into action to ensure that we continue to meet the expectations and earn the trust our stakeholders place in us.

We look forward to your continued support.

(Notes)

1. The Company has put in place three committees (the nomination, audit, and compensation committees) and adopted a corporate governance structure that separates management's oversight functions from business execution functions (Company with Three Board Committees). As the execution of the business of the Company, which is a Company with Three Board Committees, is performed by executive officers, directors who do not concurrently serve as executive officers (non-executive directors) do not perform such a function and perform mainly an oversight function.
2. There are no special interests between the Company and each of the eleven nominees.
3. The Company has entered into agreements to limit liability for damages set forth in Paragraph 1, Article 423 of the Companies Act (limitation of liability agreements) with each of the following director nominees: Mr. Shoji Ogawa, Mr. Victor Chu, Ms. Patricia Mosser, Mr. Takahisa Takahara, Ms. Miyuki Ishiguro, Mr. Masahiro Ishizuka, Mr. Taku Oshima and Ms. Nellie Liang. Liability under each such agreement is limited to either 20 million yen or the amount prescribed by laws and regulations, whichever is greater. If each nominee is reappointed at this Annual General Meeting of Shareholders, the Company is planning to maintain the limitation of liability agreements stated above with each of them.
4. The Company has entered into directors and officers liability insurance contracts set forth in Paragraph 1, Article 430-3 of the Companies Act with insurance companies, which include the eleven director nominees for reappointment as insured persons. Under such insurance contracts, there will be an indemnification of losses, such as compensation for damages and litigation costs, incurred by an insured person due to a claim for loss or damage caused by an act (including an omission) carried out on the basis of the position, such as director or officer, held by the insured person at the Company, and all insurance premiums of insured persons have been entirely borne by the Company. However, there are certain exclusions applicable to such insurance contracts such as losses caused by a deliberately fraudulent or dishonest act of individuals such as directors/officers.
At the time of contract renewal during the term of office, such insurance contracts are scheduled to be renewed.
5. The outside director nominee Mr. Taku Oshima concurrently serves as an outside director of Central Japan Railway Company. Central Japan Railway Company, regarding its inspection business for overpasses crossing Central Japan Railway Company's railway lines, commissioned by local governments and other public entities, received a cease and desist order in accordance with the Antimonopoly Act from the Japan Fair Trade Commission in December 2025. Since the on-site inspection of Central Japan Railway Company was conducted by the Japan Fair Trade Commission on October 22, 2024, Mr. Taku Oshima has been fully performing his duties as an outside director through actions such as offering recommendations from the perspective of legal compliance and requesting, at meetings of the board of directors of Central Japan Railway Company, that the facts be investigated and appropriate measures to prevent recurrence be implemented.

2. Progress and Results of the Nomura Group's Business Activities

(1) Summary

During the year ended March 31, 2026, while the global economy as a whole remained on a recovery track, major sources of market volatility affecting Nomura included U.S. tariff policy; a mix of optimism and concern surrounding the AI-related sector; political events in Japan; and geopolitical developments such as the situation involving Iran.

On April 2, 2025, the U.S. government announced the planned imposition of “reciprocal tariffs” targeting countries worldwide, triggering a sharp global equity sell-off and heightening concerns over a potential shift away from dollar-denominated assets. However, the following week a “90-day suspension” of the measures was announced, and markets turned to a V-shaped recovery. AI-related stocks in particular led the U.S. equity market through summer 2025, while from early autumn 2025 signs of caution about overheating also began to emerge. In the foreign exchange market, the yen appreciated to JPY 140 per U.S. dollar in April 2025 amid wariness of U.S. tariff policy, but thereafter weakened; since January 2026, despite heightened volatility, the exchange rate has generally remained within the JPY 152–160 range.

In Japan, Prime Minister Ishiba announced his resignation in September 2025, and in October 2025, the Takaichi cabinet was formed following the presidential election of the Liberal Democratic Party (“LDP”). As the new government advocated “responsible proactive fiscal policy,” Japan saw a stronger trend towards rising stock prices, higher interest rates and a weaker yen. Prime Minister Takaichi further dissolved the House of Representatives in January 2026. In the general election held in February, the LDP won more than two-thirds of the seats on its own, attracting attention from overseas investors. Although the impact of tariffs became visible in certain industries, Japanese equities overall continued on an upward trend as companies managed to secure profit growth, repeatedly setting new record highs; in October 2025, the Nikkei Stock Average surpassed JPY 50,000. The index has remained at a high level in the JPY 58,000–63,000 range since mid-April 2026.

With respect to monetary policy, the U.S. economy showed signs of a modest slowdown in employment, and the Federal Reserve announced rate cuts in each of September, October, and December 2025. In Japan, after confirming in its view that the impact of the U.S.-imposed tariffs was not significant, the Bank of Japan decided in December 2025 to raise interest rates for the first time since January 2025. Japan's 10-year government bond yield strengthened its upward trend—surpassing 2% in December 2025—as markets priced in Japan's exit from deflation and the continuation of rate hikes that would accompany it. Furthermore, since the end of February 2026, crude oil prices have risen sharply due to heightened instability in the Middle East, and, affected by this development, the yield on 10-year Japanese government bonds also rose, reaching 2.5% from the end of March through April and rising to 2.6% on May 13.

On the geopolitical front, events such as the Israeli and U.S. airstrikes on Iranian nuclear facilities in June 2025; U.S. military action in Venezuela in January 2026 (resulting in the capture of the Venezuelan President); and Israeli and U.S. airstrikes on Iran commencing in February 2026 (resulting in the death of the Iranian Supreme Leader) have contributed to market instability.

Under these circumstances, we posted net revenue of ¥2,167.7 billion for the year ended March 31, 2026, an increase of 14.5% from the previous year. Non-interest expenses increased by 14.6% to ¥1,627.9 billion, income before income taxes was ¥539.8 billion, and net income attributable to the shareholders of Nomura Holdings, Inc. was ¥362.1 billion. ROE was 10.1%. EPS(1) for the year ended March 31, 2026 was ¥118.99, an increase from ¥111.03 for the year ended March 31, 2025. We have decided to pay a dividend of ¥24 per share to shareholders of record as of March 31, 2026. As a result, the total annual dividend will be ¥51 per share.

We have worked to strengthen our wealth management services by enhancing our comprehensive service offerings in line with client needs to help our clients achieve the future they envision. Amid favorable market conditions and a keen understanding of client needs, there was an increase in flow revenue, mainly due to an increase in the sales of stocks and investment trusts, particularly through face-to-face channels. Additionally, there was also an increase in recurring revenue due to the expansion of Wealth Management client assets through our initiatives to provide consulting services on the entire asset bases of our clients, which we have been working on continuously.

In addition, we aim to build a sustainable client base and expand our business over the medium to long term by establishing contact points through workplace financial services, and we have been able to successfully increase the number of clients we provide services to, including the working generation. Going forward, we will provide a wide range of wealth management services, including face-to-face consulting, non-face-to-face services using digital tools, and workplace services that address asset building needs.

Operating Results of Investment Management

	Billions of yen			% Change (B-A)/(A)
	For the year ended
	March 31, 2024	March 31, 2025 (A)	March 31, 2026 (B)

The Investment Management Division has aimed for business revenue growth by increasing assets under management and by providing higher value-added asset management services. Although the Japanese equity market experienced periods of adjustment at both the beginning and the end of the fiscal year, it remained above the level of the previous fiscal year overall. In addition, following the completion in December 2025 of the acquisition of Macquarie Group Limited’s U.S. and European public asset management business, assets under management as of the end of the period rose to a record high of ¥136.9 trillion. The average balance of assets under management during the fiscal year also increased from the previous year, contributing to the growth of business revenue. While fund outflows were recorded in the acquired business, net inflows for the fiscal year totaled ¥0.4 trillion, and positive net inflows were maintained on an overall basis. Supported by the expansion of assets under management, the asset management business delivered revenue growth, while the aircraft leasing business also contributed to higher earnings through the execution of high-quality deals, resulting in an increase in sales volume. As a result, business revenue, a stable source of revenue, reached a record high. In particular, alternative assets under management as of the end of the period increased from the end of the previous fiscal year to ¥3.6 trillion, supported by solid fund inflows and investment gains. In addition, the “Nomu Wrap Fund”, which enables investors to build well-balanced portfolios tailored to their investment styles, continued to attract stable inflows, with total net assets surpassing ¥1.5 trillion.

5. Management Challenges and Strategies

The Nomura Group's business environment is undergoing significant changes. We will seek to continue to respond to these changes flexibly while maintaining an appropriate financial standing and effectively utilizing management resources through improved capital efficiency. In addition, we aim to constantly implement new initiatives with the aim of expanding existing businesses and providing value-added services to clients.

(1) Medium-to Long-term Priority Issues

We are pursuing sustainable growth across the entire group and working on building a business portfolio that focuses on stable and diversified revenue and improving capital efficiency.

Our vision is to advance Nomura Group to the next stage. To realize this, we launched a strategy of expanding into private markets to complement our businesses in the public markets. Based on this strategy, we have been working on promoting asset consulting business, strengthening the Investment Management Division and the Banking Division, and fostering growth and stability in the wholesale business. Additionally, we have been exploring and enhancing new areas such as Digital Financial Services including the digital asset business and sustainability sector including sustainable finance. We are promoting company-wide cost control through structural reforms. In addition, we are advancing the sophistication and efficiency of the corporate functions that form the basis of these businesses, strengthening the governance structure and risk management, evolving the human resource management strategies, further embedding our code of conduct and compliance, and promoting initiatives related to enhancing services and improving operational efficiency using AI and digital technologies and enhancing cybersecurity. For more information on the strategies in each division, please refer to the challenges and strategies in each division.

We have set a management vision, "Reaching for Sustainable Growth," as an indication of the direction of management toward fiscal year 2030, and are aiming to achieve the management quantitative targets of ROE 10-12%+ and an income before income taxes of over ¥750 billion. We will focus on the following areas to achieve these goals: (i) deepen global strategy leveraging our Japan franchise, (ii) accelerate growth of stable revenues, and (iii) further promote our strategy to provide platforms. In addition, we break down the PBR as shown in the figure below. Maximizing the absolute level of ROE is one of its key elements. Through addressing medium- to long-term priority issues, we aim to enhance our corporate value.

$\text{PBR} = \frac{\text{1 ROE}}{\text{2 Cost of equity} - \text{3 Expected growth rate}}$
1 Maximize ROE	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Improve profitability ■ Raise capital efficiency
2 Lower cost of equity	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Smooth out earnings volatility by stabilizing and diversifying groupwide revenues
3 Increase expected growth rate	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Capture growth markets ■ Realize organic and inorganic ■ Realign business portfolio

(2) Issues in Each Division

The challenges and strategies in each division are as follows:

- Wealth Management Division

As a result of the continuous initiatives to overhaul our business model to further help clients manage their assets, the Wealth Management Division has steadily accumulated recurring revenue assets, resulting in significant growth in recurring revenue. To contribute to the improvement in the ratio of securities to the total financial assets among Japanese households, our challenge is to respond to diversifying wealth management needs. By providing comprehensive wealth management services through Nomura Securities Co., Ltd.'s nationwide network of branches, as well as its digital services, we aim to assist our clients in achieving their goals. We will continue working on improving the skills of our partners (sales representatives) while maximizing our comprehensive strengths to enhance our wide range of products and services in order to advance the wealth management business.

- Investment Management Division

Our Investment Management Division provides solutions that meet the diversifying investment needs of our broad client base through a wide range of asset classes and services spanning both traditional and alternative assets. We aim to realize a virtuous cycle of investment that contributes to the resolution of social issues by providing high-quality investment products meeting the diverse investment needs of clients. We regard the following trends as growth opportunities: Japan's abundant individual financial assets and the tailwind of the government's plan for promoting Japan as a leading asset management center, the growth of investment in private assets, high levels of funding demand for and investor awareness of sustainability-related investments. Amid continued downward pressure on management fees, we are working to improve our investment capabilities, increase our assets under management and increase the value added by our products and services in our public market businesses, expand our business platforms in alternative assets and other high-fee growth areas, and realize greater efficiency and cost control.

In December 2025, NHI acquired the U.S. and European public asset management business of Macquarie Group Limited in order to increase our assets under management and to both diversify and strengthen our investment management platform and products to our clients.

- Wholesale Division

Our Wholesale Division faces challenges presented by increasingly sophisticated client needs and technological advancement, coupled with uncertainty in the market and macroeconomic environment. To ensure continuity of service as well as adding value to clients, we will continue to enhance collaboration across business lines, regions and divisions while further diversifying our business portfolio to stabilize revenues. We will continue to allocate financial resources in a disciplined and selective manner toward high growth opportunities, while also focusing on cost optimization.

Global Markets aims to provide liquidity to our clients while reinforcing risk control and governance. Additionally, we aim to further diversify our business portfolio, reinforce global connectivity and cross-sell across our global client franchise leveraging our solid business foundation in Japan and competitive global products to pursue growth opportunities such as Structured Financing and Solution business, International Wealth Management business as well as Global Equities, and continue to build on the strength of our Flow Macro businesses.

Investment Banking aims to provide seamless client experiences as we target to accelerate advisory services and financing to domestic and cross-border restructurings and industry-wide consolidations, as well as interest rate and foreign exchange solutions as volatile business environments impact our clients' businesses. We have leveraged our Japanese strengths and focus on expanding our global advisory business, while also maintaining focus on sustainability in light of its importance within the industry and to our clients. Additionally, we will accelerate group-wide collaborations as we develop tailored advice for the benefit of our clients across a range of products and services.

- Banking Division

Amid overall trends such as rising inflation, a shifting interest-rate environment, and initiatives toward the realization of Japanese government's "Policy Plan for Promoting Japan as a Leading Asset Management Center," we determined it is important to strengthen efforts to deliver more diverse, higher-quality services by leveraging Nomura's banking and trust capabilities. Accordingly, the Banking Division was established in April 2025. The Banking Division seeks to leverage the strengths of The Nomura Trust and Banking Co., Ltd. and Nomura Bank (Luxembourg) S.A. in private markets and bespoke products and meet the diverse needs of clients in areas such as asset building and estate planning.

The Nomura Trust and Banking Co., Ltd. completed a core banking system renewal in May 2025, enhancing and expanding its foundational banking systems. In April 2026, we launched a deposit sweep service that automatically transfers funds between accounts for customers who hold accounts with both Nomura Securities Co., Ltd. and The Nomura Trust and Banking Co., Ltd., improving client convenience by adding banking functionality to securities accounts and offering a financial hybrid service.

Going forward, we will continue to pursue our strategy focused on three pillars: client interaction, products and services, and systems.

- Risk Management and Compliance, etc.

We have defined our risk appetite in our Risk Appetite Statement which includes the types and level of risk that the Nomura Group is willing to assume in pursuit of our strategic objectives and business plans. Further, we continue to develop our risk management framework in a way that is strategically aligned to our business plans and incorporates decision-making by senior management, thereby securing capital soundness and enhancing our corporate value.

We have explicitly defined in our Risk Appetite Statement that all executives and employees must actively engage in risk management through our Three Lines of Defense framework. We also continuously provide training to all executives and employees, including those in our group companies, to increase our knowledge about risks as financial professionals and to develop a corporate culture that emphasizes the proper identification, assessment and management of risks.

With regard to compliance, we continue to focus on improving the management structure to comply with local laws and regulations in the countries where we operate. We also continue to review our internal systems and rules so that all executives and employees can work autonomously with high ethical standards.

So that all directors, officers and employees not only comply with laws and regulations, but also maintain a strong sense of ethics, and aiming to be a company that is truly trusted by society, we have established the "Nomura Group Code of Conduct" as the guidelines for the actions to be taken by all Nomura Group directors, officers, and employees. Through associated trainings and other measures, we are working to promote appropriate actions ("Conduct") based on the Code of Conduct. At the annual "Nomura Founding Principles and Corporate Ethics Day" held every August, we reaffirm the lessons learned from past incidents and renew our determination to prevent recurrence in order to maintain and build the trust of society and our clients. As part of this initiative, we hold discussions on appropriate conduct based on reflections on past incidents and ask participants to make a pledge to comply with the Code of Conduct. Since its implementation in December 2019, the Code of Conduct has been reviewed periodically to better respond to changes in social and economic conditions surrounding Nomura Group and to the expectations of stakeholders. Ahead of its 100th anniversary, we established the Nomura Group Purpose in 2024: "We aspire to create a better world by harnessing the power of financial markets." By putting the Nomura Group Purpose into action, we aim to realize the Nomura Group Corporate Philosophy and further embed the Code of Conduct.

By addressing and resolving the above issues, we will strive for the stability and further development of financial markets as well as the sustainable growth of the Nomura Group.

We seek to enhance shareholder value and to capture growing business opportunities by maintaining sufficient levels of capital. We will continue to review our levels of capital as appropriate, taking into consideration the economic risks inherent to operating our businesses, the regulatory requirements, and maintaining our ratings necessary to operate businesses globally.

We believe that raising corporate value over the long term and paying dividends is essential to rewarding shareholders. We will strive to pay dividends using a consolidated pay-out ratio of at least 40% of each semi-annual consolidated earnings as a key indicator.

Dividend payments will be determined taking into account a comprehensive range of factors such as, trends in domestic and international regulatory developments, including Basel regulations, as well as the Company's consolidated financial performance.

Dividends will in principle be paid on a semi-annual basis with record dates of September 30 and March 31.

Additionally, we will aim for a total payout ratio, which includes dividends and share buybacks, of at least 50%.

With respect to the retained earnings, in order to implement measures to adapt to regulatory changes and to increase shareholder value, we seek to efficiently invest in business areas where high profitability and growth may reasonably be expected, including the development and expansion of infrastructure such as IT systems and retail branches.

6. Matters relating to Performance-Linked Compensation

(1) Calculation method of the Performance-Linked Compensation

- Compensation of Directors and Executive Officers is divided into fixed compensation and performance-linked compensation, with fixed compensation consisting of base salary and performance-linked compensation consisting of annual bonus and long-term incentive plans.
- With respect to the President and the Group CEO, given the overall responsibility of business execution of the Nomura Group, the basic amount of the Performance-Linked Compensation is calculated based on the level of achievement in actual value(s) against the target value(s) of key performance indicator(s) and performance metrics that form the basis for their calculation. In addition, Total Compensation, including fixed compensation and performance-linked compensation, is determined by considering, as needed, qualitative evaluation competitor benchmarking etc. by the Compensation Committee.
- With respect to the Directors and the Executive Officers, their Annual Bonus and Total Compensation are determined based on the ones of the Group CEO, reflecting individual roles and responsibilities, respective jurisdiction’s regulations and compensation level etc. in addition to the qualitative elements.

(2) Performance Indicator to be used for calculation of the Performance-Linked Compensation

Quantitative elements

In order to ensure alignment with Nomura Group's management vision and business strategy, we select key performance indicators such as ROE and performance metrics that form the basis for its calculation. Additionally, we choose stock price-related indicators to promote alignment of interests with shareholders. In the current fiscal year, NHI achieved the target of 8-10%+ for ROE.

Type of elements	Item	Actual
Profit and loss	Net revenue	2,167.7 billion yen
	Revenue cost coverage ratio ⁽¹⁾	75.1%
	Income before income taxes	539.8 billion yen
Per share information	EPS	118.99 yen

Capital efficiency	ROE	10.1%
Shareholder returns	Total Shareholder Return(“TSR”) ⁽²⁾	138.2%

(Notes)

- Ratio calculated by dividing Total non-interest expenses by Net revenue
- The value obtained by dividing the total of fluctuations in the price of NHI shares and dividends in the current fiscal year by the NHI share price at the end of the previous business year.

Qualitative elements

To promote enhancement of Nomura Group's corporate value and the realization of a sustainable society, we have selected strategic management, as well as initiatives related to community, talent, and inclusion, as evaluation criteria.

7. Matters relating to Stock Based Compensation and Non-Monetary Compensation

(1) Outline of current Stock Based Compensation Awards.

The outline of current Stock Based Compensation Awards is as follows.

Type of award	Key features
RSUs	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Settled in the Company's common stock. Graded vesting period is set as three years in principle.
NSUs	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Linked to the price of the Company's common stock Cash-settled in local currency. Graded vesting period is set as three years in principle.
PSUs	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The number of shares to be awarded will be determined based on the achievement of the performance targets during the three-fiscal-year performance evaluation period.

(2) Share-based Compensation as Non-Monetary Compensation

The company sets half of the amount of the Yearly Bonus of the Directors and Executive Officers as Deferred Compensation. In principle, RSUs that fall under the Non-Monetary Compensation is used for payment of the amount. Furthermore, the Company has introduced PSUs as a long-term incentive plan.

(3) PSUs as the Long Term Incentive Plan

Under NHI's PSU program, the base number of NHI shares to be granted is initially determined based on NHI's performance and other factors each fiscal year. Following the performance period, the number of NHI shares to be awarded will vary from 0% to 150% of the base number of NHI shares depending on the degree of achievement of the performance targets for the three fiscal years. The settlement of the PSUs will be primarily in NHI common shares held as treasury stock.

The performance indicators used in the evaluation are ROE and TSR. Please refer to the following for details.

Performance indicators selected as Basis of calculation

In order to enhance NHI's corporate value over the medium to long term and to align NHI's interests with those of its shareholders, a combination of ROE (average value over the performance evaluation period) and TSR (absolute value over the performance evaluation period) will be the basis to calculate the award amount.

Calculation Method for the base number of shares and the number of shares to be granted

1) Calculation method for the base number of shares:

The base number of NHI shares shall be calculated by dividing the amount determined with reference to the performance and qualitative evaluation of the target fiscal year, as well as competitor benchmarking with the NHI price at the time of grant.

2) Calculation method for the number of NHI shares to be granted:

After the end of the performance evaluation period, the number of shares to be granted will be calculated in accordance with the following method.

a) Performance Evaluation Indicators and Grant Ratio

Performance Indicators	Composition ratio	Change in the grant ratio	Evaluation method
ROE	50%	0%~150%	Calculated based on the actual (average) values for the three-year performance evaluation period
TSR	50%	0%~150%	Calculated based on the actual value (absolute value) during the three-year performance evaluation period

The calculation methods for ROE and TSR, which form the basis for performance evaluation, are as follows:

<ROE>

If the actual value (average value) for the performance evaluation period of 3 years reaches the management goal of 8% set by Nomura Group, a certain number of benchmark shares will be granted. If the actual value reaches 5%, 50% of the benchmark shares will be granted, and if it exceeds 12%, 150% of the benchmark shares will be granted. Additionally, if the actual value does not exceed either the lowest value of the past 3 business years, including the grant year, or 3%, no grant will occur.

<TSR>

If the actual value (absolute value) for the performance evaluation period of 3 years reaches 125%, a certain number of benchmark shares will be granted. On the other hand, if the actual value is 100% or below, no grant will occur. Furthermore, if the actual value exceeds 150%, 150% of the benchmark shares will be granted. The calculation process of the actual value is as follows:

3-Year TSR = (Closing Stock Price (B) + Total Dividends during the performance evaluation period) / Initial Stock Price (A)

A: Initial Stock Price (Average closing price one month before the start of the performance evaluation period)

B: Final Stock Price (Average closing price one month before the end of the performance evaluation period)

b) Calculation method for the number of NHI shares to be paid:

The number of NHI shares to be granted is calculated by multiplying the base number of NHI shares by the weighted average of the grant ratio based on ROE and the grant ratio based on TSR. The base number of NHI shares for the PSUs for the year ended March 31, 2026 has been calculated as 541,000 NHI shares, and the number of NHI shares when applying a payout rate of 150% is 811,500 shares.

$$\left(\left(\begin{array}{c} \text{ROE} \\ \text{Grant ratio} \end{array} \right) \times 50\% + \left(\begin{array}{c} \text{TSR} \\ \text{Grant ratio} \end{array} \right) \times 50\% \right) \times \begin{array}{c} \text{Basic number} \\ \text{of shares} \end{array}$$

c) Performance evaluation period and payment schedule:

The performance evaluation period shall be three years from the fiscal year in which the base number of PSUs is determined. After the performance evaluation period has concluded, the evaluation shall be finalized and the stock compensation based on PSUs shall be paid.

Delivery Method

The NHI shares awarded at the end of the performance period will be primarily issued from treasury stock.

(4) Effect of payment of stock based compensation as deferred compensation

By providing equity-linked compensation as deferred compensation, the economic value of the compensation is linked to the stock price of NHI, and a certain vesting period is set.

- Alignment of interests with shareholders.
- Medium to long term incentives and retention by providing an opportunity for the economic value of Deferred Compensation at the time of grant to be increased by a rise in shares during a period of time from grant to vesting.
- Promotion of cross divisional collaboration and cooperation by providing a common goal of increasing corporate value over the medium to long term.

Due to these benefits, the active use of Deferred Compensation is also recommended by regulators in the key jurisdictions in which we operate.

With respect to Deferred Compensation in Nomura, a deferral period is generally three or more years from the following fiscal year or later. This is in line with the “Principles for Sound Compensation Practices” issued by the Financial Stability Board which recommends, among other things, a deferral period of three or more years.

8. Matters relating to Individual Directors and Executive Officers’ Compensation Determined by Compensation Committee

(1) Method of Determining Compensation Policies

As the Company is organized under the Committee System, the Compensation Committee has set the “Compensation Policy of Nomura Group” and “Compensation Policy for Directors and Executive Officers of Nomura Holdings, Inc.”

(2) Compensation Policy of Nomura Group

The “Compensation Policy of Nomura Group” is as follows:

Nomura Group has established compensation policy for Nomura Group officers and employees, including directors and Executive Officers of Nomura Holdings, Inc. (“NHI”). This policy is referred to as the “Basic Policy” and is as follows.

Compensation Governance

As a company with three Board Committees structure, pursuant to Japanese corporate law, NHI has established an independent statutory Compensation Committee. Majority of the Committee members are outside directors. The Committee has established both the Basic Policy and a Compensation Policy for Directors and Executive Officers of NHI, on the basis of which it considers and determines the details of individual compensation for Directors and Executive Officers of NHI.

With respect to the relevant policies and total compensation funding for Nomura Group officers and employees other than the Company's directors and Executive Officers, certain decisions regarding employment and remuneration matters are delegated to the “Human Resources Committee” (“HRC”) by Executive Management Board of NHI. The HRC is chaired by the Group CEO and the individual appointed by the chairman, taking into account financial and risk management perspectives. The HRC considers and determine the above mentioned matters by cooperating with the remuneration committees in each region.

The Committee shall establish the Compensation Recovery Policy of NHI to comply with, among others, the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended and shall determine matters with respect to compensation of covered officers who are statutory officers of NHI under Japanese law, and the HRC shall be responsible for the management, operation, interpretation and administration of such.

Compensation Policies and Practices

Nomura Group recognizes that its employees are key in pursuing the purpose which is “We aspire to create a better world by harnessing the power of financial markets”.

Compensation for Nomura Group employees is designed to support achieving sustainable corporate growth, increasing enterprise value over the medium and long-term and maintaining sound and effective risk management, while at the same time positively contributing to the interest of all Nomura shareholders. In addition, in order to ensure that Nomura Group attracts, retains, motivates and develops talent, the level and structure of remuneration takes into account the roles and responsibilities of individuals as well as the market pay levels in Japan and overseas, doing so in line with any relevant laws and regulatory expectations.

1) Sustainable corporate growth and increasing enterprise value over the medium and long-term

Compensation for Nomura Group employees aims to realize Nomura Group corporate philosophy, to promote healthy corporate culture and behavior in line with Nomura Group “Code of Conduct” and to facilitate a greater alignment with the sustainability considerations.

Based on the pay-for-performance principle, compensation supports Nomura Group business strategy, objectives and the aim of sustainable growth and increasing enterprise value over the medium and long-term, while at the same time it ensures the maintenance of sound and market-competitive remuneration practices.

2) Sound and effective risk management

Nomura Group maintains a sound and effective risk management with an appropriate risk appetite. The Company adjusts the performance measurement standards and indicators when determining compensation by considering both financial and non-financial risks in each business. The qualitative factors such as conduct, compliance, professional ethics and corporate philosophy are considered in determining the final amount of remuneration, which may include a reduction resulting from a disciplinary action.

In addition, when granting compensation, it shall be specified that in the event of a material revision of financial statements or a material violation of applicable laws and regulations or Nomura Group rules and policies, compensation may be subject to reduction, suspension, forfeiture of rights, cancellation, offset by other compensation, or re-payment (so-called “clawback”).

3) Alignment of interests with shareholders

For Nomura Group employees who receive a certain amount of remuneration, a portion of the remuneration is stock-related remuneration linked to shares of NHI with an appropriate deferral period applicable, in order to ensure an alignment with the shareholders' interests.

Approval and Revision of the Basic Policy

The approval, amendment or repeal of the Basic Policy can be made by the Compensation Committee of NHI.

(3) Compensation Policy for Directors and Executive Officers of Nomura Holdings, Inc.

“Compensation Policy for Directors and Executive Officers of Nomura Holdings, Inc.” is as follows:

Compensation of Directors and Executive Officers is divided into fixed compensation and performance-linked compensation, with fixed compensation consisting of base salary and performance-linked compensation consisting of annual bonus and long-term incentive plans. In order to provide incentives for the improvement of medium to long-term corporate value and to align the interests of shareholders, a portion of the compensation is paid through stock-related incentives with a specified deferral period.

<Composition of Compensation for Directors and Executives>

Fixed Compensation	Performance-linked Compensation
Base salary	Annual Bonuses	Long-term Incentive Plan

Fixed Compensation

- Base salary is determined based on factors such as professional background, career history, responsibilities and compensation standards of related business fields.

Performance-linked Compensation

- With respect to the Group CEO, given the overall responsibility of business execution of the Nomura Group, the basic amount of the performance-linked compensation is calculated based on the level of achievement in actual value(s) against the target value(s) of key performance indicator(s) and performance metrics that form the basis for their calculation. In addition, qualitative evaluation competitor benchmarking is to be reflected when determining final annual bonus amount.

- With respect to Directors and other Executive Officers, amount of annual bonus is determined with the annual bonus of Group CEO as standard baseline, taking into consideration the roles and responsibilities, local remuneration regulations and compensation levels in each jurisdiction etc., in addition to the qualitative evaluation of the individual.
- Audit Committee members and Outside Directors are not bonus-eligible in order to maintain and ensure their independence from business execution.

a) Annual Bonuses

In principle, certain portion of annual bonus payment should be deferred.

b) Long-term Incentive Plan

- Payments under long-term incentive plans are made when a certain degree of achievements are accomplished.
- Payments are made in equity-linked awards.

When granting compensation, it shall be specified that in the event of voluntary resignation, a material revision of financial statements or a material violation of applicable laws and regulations or Nomura Group rules and policies, compensation of Directors and Executive Officers may be subject to reduction, suspension, forfeiture of rights, cancellation, offset by other compensation, or re-payment (so-called “clawback”).

Opinion

Pursuant to Article 444, paragraph 4 of the Companies Act, we have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements, which comprise the consolidated balance sheet, the consolidated statement of income and changes in equity and notes to the consolidated financial statements of Nomura Holdings, Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries (the Group) applicable to the fiscal year from April 1, 2025 to March 31, 2026.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position and results of operations of the Group applicable to the fiscal year ended March 31, 2026, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America with certain disclosure items omitted pursuant to the same provisions in the second sentence of Article 120, section 1 of the Ordinance on Accounting of Companies, as applied to Article 120-3, section 3.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements in Japan, including those applicable to audits of financial statements of public interest entities, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other Information

The other information comprises the information included in the Group's business report and its supplementary schedules. Management is responsible for preparation and disclosure of the other information. The Audit Committee is responsible for overseeing the Group's reporting process of the other information.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and the Audit Committee for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America with certain disclosure items omitted pursuant to the same provisions in the second sentence of Article 120, section 1 of the Ordinance on Accounting of Companies, as applied to Article 120-3, section 3, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern and disclosing, as required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America with certain disclosure items omitted pursuant to the same provisions in the second sentence of Article 120, section 1 of the Ordinance on Accounting of Companies, as applied to Article 120-3, section 3, matters related to going concern.

The Audit Committee is responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.
- Consider internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for our risk assessments, while the purpose of the audit of the consolidated financial statements is not expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America with certain disclosure items omitted pursuant to the same provisions in the second sentence of Article 120, section 1 of the Ordinance on Accounting of Companies, as applied to Article 120-3, section 3.
- Plan and perform the group audit to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business units within the Group as a basis for forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and review of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with the Audit Committee regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Audit Committee with a statement that we have complied with the ethical requirements regarding independence that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements in Japan, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied to reduce threats to an acceptable level.

Interest Required to Be Disclosed by the Certified Public Accountants Act of Japan

Our firm and its designated engagement partners do not have any interest in the Group which is required to be disclosed pursuant to the provisions of the Certified Public Accountants Act of Japan.

If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan.
- Plan and perform the audit to obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the components within the Company as a basis for forming an opinion on the financial statements. [Summary of Implementation Status of the Structure indicated above]

We have established the Nomura Group Conduct Committee as a forum for deliberation, determination, and other activities aimed at embedding the Nomura Group Code of Conduct (“the Code of Conduct”) and for deliberation on overseeing compliance and conduct risk management.

As a framework for embedding the Code of Conduct, we have formulated the “Nomura Group Conduct Program.” We have established the “Nomura Group Code of Conduct,” which sets out guidelines for behavior Nomura Group officers and employees should follow, and pledge compliance with once a year. Every August, on Nomura Founding Principles and Corporate Ethics Day, which serves as an occasion to reaffirm the lessons learned from past misconduct and renew our commitment to preventing recurrence and to maintaining and earning the trust of society and our clients, we hold discussions and other activities regarding appropriate conduct and also make a pledge to comply with the Code of Conduct.

As a framework for compliance and conduct risk management, we have established the “Nomura Group Conduct Risk Management Policy” and the “Group Compliance Risk Management Policy.” Under the concept of the three lines of defense, we clearly define the roles of the first line, second line, and third line, and we are working to build an effective structure. We appoint Senior Conduct Officers in each first-line division and function, as well as in each region, to manage conduct risk tailored to the circumstances of each division/function and region. In the second line (the compliance function), we appoint a Chief Compliance Officer as the person responsible for establishing Nomura Group’s compliance and conduct risk management and maintaining its effectiveness. We also appoint compliance officers in each region and group companies. Through instructions to the Group Compliance Department, which serves as the compliance oversight function, the Chief Compliance Officer coordinates with regional and group compliance officers to strengthen internal control frameworks for global business operations and to establish and maintain compliance and conduct risk management across the Group, including international locations.

The Nomura Group Compliance Hotline has been established to disclose wrongdoing directly to designated recipients. There are multiple ways to disclose and anonymous disclosure is acceptable. The disclosure will be treated as strictly confidential. In order to ensure anonymity, it is possible to disclose through an external vendor system.

The core principle of Nomura’s Group Code of Conduct is to prevent money laundering and terrorist financing, bribery and corruption, and transactions with anti-social forces with a strong risk management framework. As a global policy on anti-money laundering and combating the financing of terrorism (AML/CFT), we have established the “Nomura Group Anti-Money Laundering and Combating the Financing of Terrorism Policy”, which stipulates the principles and standards to be observed across regions and group entities.

In the Nomura Group, Group AML/CFT Head is appointed with responsibility for establishing and maintaining AML/CFT framework. Group Compliance Dept. is in charge of assisting the Group AML/CFT Head, and AML Compliance Officer in each group entity with responsibility for overseeing AML/CFT framework in the group entities.

In addition, the Nomura Group has established the “Nomura Group Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption (ABC) Policy” as a global policy concerning the prevention of bribery and corruption. The Chief Compliance Officer is responsible for the establishment of ABC framework with the assistance of Group Compliance Dept.

Through these efforts, the necessary management systems are established and maintained for AML/CFT, prevent bribery, sever with antisocial forces, and respond to economic sanctions.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

[Significant Basis of Presentation of Consolidated Financial Statements]

1. Basis of presentation

Nomura Holdings, Inc. (the “Company”)’s consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”) pursuant to Article 120-3, Paragraph 1 of the Ordinance for Company Calculation (Ministry of Justice Ordinance No. 13 of 2006). However, certain disclosures required under U.S. GAAP are omitted pursuant to Article 120-3, Paragraph 3 and the latter part of Article 120, Paragraph 1 of the Ordinance for Company Calculation.

2. Scope of consolidation and equity method application

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and other entities in which it has a controlling financial interest (collectively referred to as “Nomura”). Generally, the ownership of a majority of the voting interest meets the majority of financial control condition, and Nomura, therefore, consolidates its wholly-owned and majority-owned subsidiaries. In accordance with Accounting Standard Codification (“ASC”) 810 “Consolidation”, Nomura also consolidates any variable interest entities for which Nomura is a primary beneficiary.

Equity investments in entities in which Nomura has significant influence over operating and financial decisions (generally defined as 20 to 50 percent of the voting rights of a corporate entity, or at least 3 percent of a limited partnership and similar entities) are accounted for under the equity method of accounting and are reported in Other Assets – Investments in and advances to affiliated companies. Nomura does not apply the equity method of accounting for the equity investments that Nomura elected the fair value option under ASC 825 “Financial Instruments” and they are carried at fair value and are reported in Trading assets, Private equity and debt investments, or Other assets - Other. Nomura elected to apply the fair value option to its investments in American Century Companies, Inc. representing economic interest of 40.4%, and reports the investments and associated unrealized gains and losses within Other assets – Other and Revenue – Other, respectively.

Also, investment companies within the scope of ASC 946 “Financial Services – Investment Companies” carry all of their investments at fair value, with changes in fair value recognized through earnings, rather than apply the equity method of accounting or consolidation. Equity and debt investments held by Nomura’s investment company subsidiaries are reported within Private equity and debt investments.

[Significant Accounting Policies]

3. Basis and methods of valuation for securities, derivatives and others

(1) Trading assets and trading liabilities

Trading assets and trading liabilities, including contractual commitments arising pursuant to derivative transactions, are recorded on the consolidated balance sheet on a trade date basis at fair value. The related gains and losses are recognized currently in income.

(2) Private equity and debt investments

Private equity and debt investments are carried at fair value. Corresponding changes in the fair value of these investments are recognized currently in income.

(3) Investments in equity securities

Investments in equity securities consist of marketable and non-marketable equity securities that have been acquired for operating or other than operating purposes. Investments in equity securities for operating purposes and investments in equity securities for other than operating purposes are included in the other assets section of the consolidated balance sheet in Other assets – Investments in equity securities and Other assets – Other, respectively.

Investments in equity securities for operating purposes and for other than operating purposes held by non-trading subsidiaries are generally recorded at fair value and unrealized gains and losses are recognized currently in income.

(4) Non trading debt securities

Non-trading debt securities mainly consist of debt securities held by non-trading subsidiaries. Non-trading debt securities held by non-trading subsidiaries are generally carried at amortized cost when classified as held to maturity defined in ASC 320 “Investments - Debt Securities” (“ASC 320”) and at fair value with changes in fair value reported in the consolidated balance sheets, net of applicable income taxes within Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss), a component of NHI shareholders’ equity when classified as available for sale defined in ASC 320. Also, these are carried at fair value and unrealized gains and losses are recognized currently in income when elected for the fair value option permitted by ASC 825 “Financial Instruments”.

4. Depreciation and amortization

Depreciation for tangible assets is generally computed by the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of assets according to general class, type of construction and use. Software is generally amortized by the straight-line method over its estimated useful life. Intangible assets with finite lives are amortized by the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives.

5. Long-lived assets

ASC 360 “Property, Plant, and Equipment” (“ASC 360”) provides guidance on the financial accounting and reporting for the impairment or disposal of long-lived assets.

In accordance with ASC 360, long-lived assets, excluding goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets, are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. If the estimated future undiscounted cash flow is less than the carrying amount of the assets, a loss would be recognized to the extent the carrying value exceeded its fair value.

6. Goodwill and intangible assets

In accordance with ASC 350 “Intangibles—Goodwill and Other”, goodwill and intangible assets not subject to amortization are reviewed annually, or more frequently in certain circumstances, for impairment.

7. Basis of allowances

(1) Allowance for current expected credit losses

Management establishes an allowance for current expected credit losses on financing receivables not carried at fair value in accordance with ASC 326 “Financial Instruments—Credit Losses” (“ASC 326”). Current expected credit losses are calculated over the expected life of the financial financing receivables on an individual or a portfolio basis, considering all available relevant, reasonable supportable information about the collectability of cash flows, including information about past events, current conditions and future forecasts. Accrued interest receivables are excluded from the amortized cost basis of financing receivables when calculating current expected credit losses. The methodology used by Nomura to determine current expected credit losses primarily depends on the nature of the financial instrument, whether certain practical expedients permitted by ASC 326 are applied by Nomura and whether expected credit losses arising from the financing receivables are significant.

(2) Accrued pension and severance costs

In accordance with ASC 715 “Compensation—Retirement Benefits”, the funded status of the defined benefit postretirement plan, which is measured as the difference between the fair value of the plan assets and the projected benefit obligation, is recognized to prepare for the employees’ retirement and severance benefits.

The unrecognized prior service cost is amortized on a straight-line basis over the average remaining service period of active participants.

Actuarial gains and losses in excess of 10% of the greater of the projected benefit obligation or the fair value of plan assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over the average remaining service period of active participants.

8. Hedging activities and derivatives used for non-trading purposes

Nomura’s principal objectives in using derivatives for purposes other than trading are managing market risk of certain non-trading liabilities such as issued debt instruments and foreign exchange risk of certain net investments in foreign operations.

These derivative contracts are linked to specific assets or liabilities and are designated as hedges as they are effective in reducing the risk associated with the exposure being hedged and are highly correlated with changes in the fair value or the foreign exchange of the underlying hedged items. Nomura applies fair value or net investment hedge accounting to these hedging transactions. The relating unrealized profits and losses are recognized together with those of the hedged assets and liabilities as Interest expense or reported within Change in cumulative translation adjustments.

Further, derivatives are also utilized for non-trading purposes to manage equity price risk arising from certain stock-based compensation awards granted to employees and others. Additionally, certain trading liabilities are held to manage the price risk of investments in equity securities held for operating purposes.

9. Foreign currency translation

All assets and liabilities of subsidiaries which have a functional currency other than Japanese Yen are translated into Japanese Yen at exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date; all revenue and expenses are translated at the average exchange rates for the respective fiscal years and the resulting translation adjustments are reported within Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss). Foreign currency assets and liabilities are translated at exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date and the resulting translation gains or losses are credited or charged to income for the respective fiscal years.

10. The Company and its wholly-owned domestic subsidiaries adopt the Group Tax Sharing System.

11. Accounting changes

The following table presents revenue earned by Nomura from providing services to customers by relevant line item in Nomura's consolidated statement of income.

	Millions of yen
Commissions	¥	455,289
Fees from investment banking		200,548
Asset management and portfolio service fees		468,600
Other revenue		79,735

Commissions in the consolidated statements of income represent revenue principally from trade execution, clearing services and distribution of fund units. Fees from investment banking represent revenues from financial advisory, underwriting and distribution. Asset management and portfolio service fees represent revenues from asset management services.

The following table presents summary information regarding the key methodologies, assumptions and judgments used in recognizing revenue for each of the primary types of service provided to customers, including the nature of underlying performance obligations within each type of service and whether those performance obligations are satisfied at a point in time or over a period of time. For performance obligations recognized over time, information is also provided to explain the nature of the input or output method used to recognize revenue over time.

Where revenue is recognized at a point on time, payments of fees are typically received at the same time as when the performance obligation is satisfied, or within several days or months after satisfying a performance obligation. In relation to revenue recognized over time, payments of fees are typically received every month, three months or six months.

The following table presents the balances of customer contract receivables and contract liabilities in scope of ASC 606 “Revenue from Contracts with Customers” (“ASC 606”) as of March 31, 2026. The amount of contract assets as of March 31, 2026 was immaterial.

(1) Contract liabilities primarily rise from investment advisory services and recognized in connection with the term of the contract based on time elapsed.

The balance of contract liabilities as of March 31, 2025 were recognized as revenue for the year ended March 31, 2026. Nomura recognized ¥1,808 million of revenue from performance obligations satisfied in previous periods for the year ended March 31, 2026.

Transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligations is ¥293 million. As permitted by ASC 606, Nomura has chosen not to disclose information about remaining performance obligations that have original expected durations of one year or less as of March 31, 2026.

13. Critical accounting estimates

The following table summarizes critical accounting policies, the critical accounting estimates inherent within application of those policies, the nature of the estimates, the underlying assumptions and judgments made by management used to derive those estimates and effect of changes in estimates and assumptions during year.

Fair value of financial instruments Note 18 "Financial instruments"	Estimating fair value for financial instruments	A significant portion of our financial instruments are carried at fair value. The fair values of these financial instruments may not only be measured at quoted prices but also impacted by other factors, including selection of valuation techniques/ models and other assumptions that require judgment. This may affect the amount and timing of realized and unrealized gains or losses recognized in the consolidated statements of income or accumulated other comprehensive income for a particular financial instrument. Selection of appropriate valuation techniques <ul style="list-style-type: none"> For financial instruments measured at fair value where quoted prices are available in active markets, we typically use quoted prices as level 1 inputs for determining the fair value of these financial instruments. For financial instruments where such quoted prices are not available, the fair value of these financial instruments are measured using level 2 or level 3 inputs. Significant judgment is involved in selection of appropriate valuation techniques and validation of assumptions applied in models because the estimated fair values measured could vary depending on which models and assumptions are used. When selecting valuation techniques, various factors such as the particular circumstances and markets where these financial instruments are traded, the availability of reliable inputs, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs are considered. Significance of level 3 inputs <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Fair values are more judgmental when we use level 3 inputs, which are based on significant non-market based unobservable inputs. For these instruments, fair value is determined based on management's judgment about the assumption that market participant would use in pricing the instruments, including perception of liquidity, economic environment and the risks affecting the specific financial instruments. 	See Note 18 "Financial Instruments" for further information around our valuation methodologies and our policy for classification of financial instruments within the fair value hierarchy.

2,875,458 million yen

- (1) The asset balances, which have been pledged as collateral for secured loans from special purpose entities and for transfer dealings in which the control over the asset is not relinquished, are included.
- (2) In addition, Nomura re-pledged ¥33,145 million of securities received as collateral and securities borrowed.

15. Securitizations

Nomura utilizes special purpose entities (“SPEs”) to securitize commercial and residential mortgage loans, government agency and corporate bonds and other types of financial assets. Those SPEs are incorporated as stock companies, Tokumei kumiai (silent partnerships), Cayman special purpose companies (“SPCs”) or trust accounts. Nomura’s involvement with SPEs includes structuring SPEs, underwriting, distributing and selling debt instruments and beneficial interests issued by SPEs to investors. Nomura accounts for the transfer of financial assets in accordance with ASC 860 “Transfers and Servicing” (“ASC 860”). This statement requires that Nomura accounts for the transfer of financial assets as a sale when Nomura relinquishes control over the assets. ASC 860 deems control to be relinquished when the following conditions are met: (a) the assets have been isolated from the transferor (even in bankruptcy or other receivership), (b) the transferee has the right to pledge or exchange the assets received, or if the transferee is an entity whose sole purpose is to engage in securitization or asset-backed financing activities, and that entity is constrained from pledging or exchanging the assets it receives, the holders of its beneficial interests have the right to pledge or exchange the beneficial interests, and (c) the transferor has not maintained effective control over the transferred assets. Nomura may retain an interest in the financial assets, including residual interests in the SPEs. Any such interests are accounted for at fair value and reported within Trading assets in Nomura’s consolidated balance sheet, with the change in fair value reported within Revenue-net gain (loss) on trading. Fair value for retained interests in securitized financial assets is determined by using observable prices; or in cases where observable prices are not available for certain retained interests, Nomura estimates fair value based on the present value of expected future cash flows using its best estimates of the key assumptions, including forecasted credit losses, prepayment rates, forward yield curves and discount rates commensurate with the risks involved. Nomura may also enter into derivative transactions in relation to the financial assets transferred to an SPE.

As noted above, Nomura may have continuing involvement with SPEs to which Nomura transferred assets. For the year ended March 31, 2026, Nomura received cash proceeds from SPEs on transfer of assets in new securitizations of ¥512.4 billion and the associated gain on sale was ¥1.6 billion. For the year ended March 31, 2026, Nomura received debt securities issued by these SPEs with an initial fair value of ¥824.2 billion and cash inflows from third parties on the sale of those debt securities of ¥1,105.8 billion. The cumulative balance of financial assets transferred to SPEs with which Nomura has continuing involvement was ¥7,918.8 billion as of March 31, 2026. Those transferred financial assets are substantially government, agency and municipal securities. Nomura's retained interests were ¥208.0 billion as of March 31, 2026, and Nomura received cash flows of ¥42.7 billion for the year ended March 31, 2026 from the SPEs on such retained interests held in the SPEs. Nomura does not provide financial support to SPEs beyond its contractual obligations.

16. Contingencies

Investigations, lawsuits and other legal proceedings

In the normal course of business as a global financial services entity, Nomura is involved in investigations, lawsuits and other legal proceedings and, as a result, may suffer loss from any fines, penalties or damages awarded against Nomura, any settlements Nomura chooses to make to resolve a matter, and legal and other advisory costs incurred to support and formulate a defense.

The ability to predict the outcome of these actions and proceedings is inherently difficult, particularly where claimants are seeking substantial or indeterminate damages, where investigations and legal proceedings are at an early stage, where the matters present novel legal theories or involve a large number of parties, or which take place in foreign jurisdictions with complex or unclear laws.

The Company regularly evaluates each legal proceeding and claim on a case-by-case basis in consultation with external legal counsel to assess whether an estimate of possible loss or range of loss can be made, if recognition of a liability is not appropriate. In accordance with ASC 450 "Contingencies" ("ASC 450"), the Company recognizes a liability for this risk of loss arising on each individual matter when a loss is probable and the amount of such loss or range of loss can be reasonably estimated. The amount recognized as a liability is reviewed at least quarterly and is revised when further information becomes available. If these criteria are not met for an individual matter, such as if an estimated loss is only reasonably possible rather than probable, no liability is recognized. However, where a material loss is reasonably possible, the Company will disclose details of the legal proceeding or claim below. Under ASC 450 an event is defined as reasonably possible if the chance of the loss to the Company is more than remote but less than probable. As of March 31, 2026, the total liability of ¥13,077 million have been recognized and reported within the consolidated balance sheets within Other liabilities in respect of outstanding and unsettled investigations, lawsuits and other legal proceedings where loss is considered probable and the amount of such loss can be reasonably estimated.

The most significant actions and proceedings against Nomura are summarized below. The Company believes that, based on current information available as of the date of these consolidated financial statements, the ultimate resolution of these actions and proceedings will not be material to the Company's financial condition. However, an adverse outcome in certain of these matters could have a material adverse effect on the consolidated statements of income or cash flows in a particular quarter or annual period.

For certain of the significant actions and proceedings, the Company is currently able to estimate the amount of reasonably possible loss, or range of reasonably possible losses, in excess of amounts recognized as a liability (if any) against such cases. These estimates are based on current information available as of the date of these consolidated financial statements and include, but are not limited to, the specific amount of damages or claims against Nomura in each case. As of May 14, 2026, for those cases where an estimate of the range of reasonably possible losses can be made, the Company estimates that the total aggregate reasonably possible maximum loss in excess of amounts recognized as a liability (if any) against these cases is approximately ¥61 billion.

For certain other significant actions and proceedings, the Company is unable to provide an estimate of the reasonably possible loss or range of reasonably possible losses because, among other reasons, (i) the proceedings are at such an early stage there is not enough information available to assess whether the stated grounds for the claim are viable; (ii) damages have not been identified by the claimant; (iii) damages are unsupported and/or exaggerated; (iv) there is uncertainty as to the outcome of pending appeals or motions; (v) there are significant legal issues to be resolved that may be dispositive, such as the applicability of statutes of limitations; (vi) there are novel or unsettled legal theories underlying the claims and/or (vii) a judgment has been made against Nomura but detailed reasons for the basis for the judgment and how the amount of the judgment has been determined have not yet been received.

Nomura will continue to cooperate with regulatory investigations and to vigorously defend its position in the ongoing actions and proceedings set out below, as appropriate.

In October 2010 and June 2012, two actions were brought against Nomura International plc (“NIP”), seeking recovery of payments allegedly made to NIP by Fairfield Sentry Ltd. and Fairfield Sigma Ltd. (collectively, “Fairfield Funds”), which are now in liquidation and were feeder funds to Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC (in liquidation pursuant to the Securities Investor Protection Act in the U.S. since December 2008) (“BLMIS”). The first suit was brought by the liquidators of the Fairfield Funds. It was filed on October 5, 2010 in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, but was subsequently removed to the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York. The second suit was brought by the trustee for the liquidation of BLMIS (“Madoff Trustee”). NIP was added as a defendant in June 2012 when the Madoff Trustee filed an amended complaint in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York. Both actions seek to recover approximately $34 million plus interest.

In November 2011, NIP was served with a claim filed by the Madoff Trustee in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York. This is a clawback action similar to claims filed by the Madoff Trustee against numerous other institutions. The Madoff Trustee alleges that NIP received redemptions from the BLMIS feeder fund, Harley International (Cayman) Limited in the six years prior to December 11, 2008 (the date proceedings were commenced against BLMIS) and that these are avoidable and recoverable under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code and New York law. The amount that the Madoff Trustee is currently seeking to recover from NIP is approximately $24.4 million plus interest.

Certain of the Company’s subsidiaries in the U.S. securitized residential mortgage loans as residential mortgage-backed securities (“RMBS”) by purchasing loans from third-party originators rather than originating them. These subsidiaries received and provided loan level representations and warranties that detailed borrower characteristics and property conditions, including credit status and compliance with guidelines and laws. Regarding RMBS issued between 2005 and 2007, although the subsidiaries received repurchase claims totaling $3,203 million, claims made after the expiration of the statute of limitations applicable to the breach of representation claims were rejected. Certain investors initiated breach of contract actions through the trustee from 2011 to 2014. Actions filed within the six-year statute of limitations were dismissed due to settlements.

NIP is involved in two Italian civil claims relating to certain structured financial transactions that Banca Monte dei Paschi di Siena SpA (“MPS”) entered into with NIP in 2009 (“Transactions”). The Transactions have also been subject to criminal proceedings, in relation to which NIP and two former employees of NIP were acquitted on appeal and administrative sanction proceedings by the Italian financial regulatory authority, Commissione Nazionale per le Società e la Borsa, as well as other civil litigation which has been resolved.

In January 2018, a claim before the Italian Courts brought by two claimants, Alken Fund Sicav (on behalf of two Luxembourg investment funds Alken Fund European Opportunities and Alken Fund Absolute Return Europe) and Virmont S.A. (formerly, Alken Luxembourg S.A, the funds’ management company) (collectively referred to as “Alken”) was served on NIP. The claim was made against NIP, MPS, four MPS former directors and a member of MPS’s internal audit board, and sought monetary damages of approximately EUR 434 million plus interest, as well as non-monetary damages in an amount left to be quantified by the Judge. In July 2021, the court rejected all of Alken’s claims. In February 2022, Alken appealed the decision to the Milan Court of Appeal and, in November 2023, the court dismissed Alken’s appeal. In January 2024, Alken appealed the Court of Appeal’s decision to the Italian Supreme Court.

In May 2019, a claim before the Italian Courts brought by York Global Finance Offshore BDH (Luxembourg) Sàrl and a number of seemingly related funds was served on NIP. The claim is made against NIP, MPS, two MPS former directors and a member of MPS’s internal audit board, and seeks monetary damages of approximately EUR 186.7 million plus interest, as well as non-monetary damages in an amount left to be quantified by the Judge. In May 2024, the court rejected all of York's claims. In June 2024, York appealed the decision to the Milan Court of Appeal.

On May 20, 2021, NIP and the Company were named as addressees in a decision issued by the European Commission in which NIP, the Company and various other third party financial institutions were found to have infringed EU competition law in connection with their activity in the primary and secondary markets for European Government Bonds ("EGB"). The European Commission found that the infringement consisted of anticompetitive agreements and/or concerted practices in the EGB sector in breach of EU competition law and fined NIP and the Company approximately EUR 129.6 million. The fine was provisionally paid as required. In August 2021, NIP and the Company appealed the decision to the European Union's General Court. In March 2025, the General Court upheld the European Commission's decision but reduced the amount of NIP's and the Company's fine to approximately EUR 125.6 million. In June 2025, NIP and the Company appealed the decision to the Court of Justice of the European Union.

Nomura has responded to requests for information from the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("CFTC") in relation to swap trading related to bond issuances. On February 1, 2021, the CFTC filed a civil enforcement action against a Nomura employee and charged him with violating the anti-fraud, price manipulation and false statements provisions of the Commodity Exchange Act in relation to a 2015 interest rate swap transaction. On April 30, 2026, following notice from the parties that they had reached an agreement in principle on a settlement that would resolve all claims asserted in the action, the CFTC's action against the Nomura employee was dismissed without prejudice to the right to reopen the action by June 29, 2026 if the settlement is not consummated.

In September 2017 and November 2017, Nomura International (Hong Kong) Limited ("NIHK") and Nomura Special Investments Singapore Pte Limited ("NSIS") were respectively served with a complaint filed in the Taipei District Court against NIHK, NSIS, China Firstextile (Holdings) Limited ("FT") and certain individuals by First Commercial Bank, Ltd., Land Bank of Taiwan Co., Ltd., Chang Hwa Commercial Bank Ltd., Taishin International Bank, E.Sun Commercial Bank, Ltd., CTBC Bank Co., Ltd., Hwatai Bank, Ltd. and Bank of Taiwan (collectively, "FT Syndicate Banks"). The FT Syndicate Banks' complaint relates to a $100 million syndicated term loan facility to borrower FT that was arranged by NIHK, and made by the FT Syndicate Banks together with NSIS. The FT Syndicate Banks' allegations in the complaint include tort claims under Taiwan law against the defendants. The FT Syndicate Banks sought to recover approximately $68 million in damages, plus interest. By judgment dated October 13, 2023, the Taipei District Court dismissed the FT Syndicate Banks' claims in entirety. In November 2023, Statements of Appeal were filed by 7 of the 8 FT Syndicate Banks (First Commercial Bank, Ltd., Land Bank of Taiwan Co., Ltd., Chang Hwa Commercial Bank Ltd., Taishin International Bank, E.Sun Commercial Bank, Ltd., CTBC Bank Co., Ltd. and Bank of Taiwan, together the "Appellants"), indicating the Appellants' intention to appeal the Taipei District Court decision to the Taiwan High Court. The case is transferred to the Taiwan High Court in February 2024 for appeal. The claim amount for the appeal is approximately $63 million in damages, plus interest.

In August 2017, the Cologne public prosecutor in Germany notified NIP that it is investigating possible tax fraud by individuals who worked for the Nomura Group in relation to the historic planning and execution of trading strategies around dividend record dates in certain German equities (known as "cum/ex" trading) and in relation to filings of tax reclaims in 2007 to 2013. During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2020, Nomura Group became aware that certain of those individuals would be the subject of investigative proceedings in Germany. NIP and another entity in the Nomura Group are cooperating with the investigation, including by disclosing to the public prosecutor certain documents and trading data, and Nomura Group premises in Frankfurt were raided by the public prosecutor in April 2023 for the purpose of obtaining additional data and documents. It appears that the investigation has expanded including to also now encompass cum/cum trading strategies in certain German equities. If the investigation involving Nomura Group entities and former individuals proceeds to trial, the individuals could face criminal sanctions and Nomura Group entities could face administrative sanctions such as administrative fines or profit confiscation orders.

In and after August 2022, Nomura Financial Advisory and Securities (India) Private Limited ("NFASI") was served with seven commercial suits filed with the Bombay High Court, and one commercial suit filed with the City Civil Court of Mumbai, against NFASI and other parties. The lawsuits relate to the same equity disposal where the plaintiffs were eight of the sellers and NFASI acted as financial advisor to the sellers, and include allegations that NFASI failed to comply with its duties as financial advisor. The total claim amounts in the suits are approximately INR 5.2 billion in damages, plus interest.

In October 2024, NIP received a statement of claim from a Prosecutor of the Court of Auditors in Italy in relation to an advisory relationship NIP entered into with an Italian Regional counterparty in 2005. The claim alleges that NIP caused harm to the Italian Regional counterparty and as such civil damages of approximately EUR 122.8 million are payable.

The Company's consolidated subsidiary, Nomura Securities Co., Ltd. ("NSC"), is addressing damages that occurred due to transactions such as the purchase and sale of securities and other financial instruments, conducted by third parties using customers' assets through unauthorized access to securities accounts due to fraudulent activities, such as phishing. In regard to customer accounts that suffered damages since January 2025, NSC will handle each case based on the individual circumstances of each customer, including, at a maximum, restoring the accounts to the state prior to the unauthorized transactions.

In November 2025, a counterparty issued a claim in the English courts against NIP and Nomura Singapore Limited ("NSL") alleging that they were charged excess sums and suffered damages for breach of contract in relation to certain derivative transactions entered into by the counterparty and either NIP or NSL between 2017 and 2023. The counterparty is seeking approximately $50 million, together with interest.

In addition to the matters described above, Nomura is also involved in other matters which can include ongoing lawsuits by counterparties or other third parties or former and current employees or formal and informal reviews, requests for information, audits, assessments and investigations by regulators, taxing authorities and other governmental agencies regarding certain business activities, which may include trading, financing, prime brokerage, market-making, advisory services, investment management services, financial reporting matters, and labor management, certain of which may result in adverse judgments, settlements, fines, penalties, injunctions or limitations on the ability to conduct certain business. These are not separately disclosed above on the basis that these are not currently considered significant.

17. Guarantees

In accordance with ASC 460 “Guarantees”, Nomura recognizes obligations under certain issued guarantees and records the fair value of these guarantee obligations on the consolidated balance sheet.

The information about maximum potential payout or notional total of derivative contracts, standby letters of credit and other guarantees that could meet the definition of a guarantee is as below.

For information about the maximum potential amount of future payments that Nomura could be required to make under certain derivatives, the notional amount of contracts has been disclosed. However, the maximum potential payout for certain derivative contracts, such as written interest rate caps and written currency options, cannot be estimated, as increases in interest or foreign exchange rates in the future could be theoretically unlimited. Nomura records all derivative contracts at fair value. Nomura believes the notional amounts generally overstate its risk exposure.

Derivative contracts ⁽¹⁾⁽²⁾	649,090,164 million yen
Standby letters of credit and other guarantees ⁽³⁾⁽⁴⁾	5,222,432 million yen

(1) The carrying value of derivative contracts is ¥9,868,845 million (liability).

(2) The notional amount and the carrying value of the written credit derivatives not included in derivative contracts are ¥68,210,349 million and ¥943,506 million (liability), respectively.

(3) The carrying value of standby letters of credit and other guarantees is ¥6 million (liability).

(4) Primarily related to a certain sponsored repo program where Nomura guarantees to a third party clearinghouse the payment of its clients’ obligations. Our exposure under this guarantee is minimized through effectively obtaining collaterals whose amount is approximately equal to the maximum potential payout of the guarantee.

18. Financial Instruments

The fair value of financial instruments

A significant amount of Nomura's financial instruments are carried at fair value. Financial assets carried at fair value on a recurring basis are reported in the consolidated balance sheet within Trading assets and private equity and debt investments, Loans and receivables, Collateralized agreements and Other assets. Financial liabilities carried at fair value on a recurring basis are reported within Trading liabilities, Short-term borrowings, Payables and deposits, Collateralized financing, Long-term borrowings and Other liabilities.

In all cases, fair value is determined in accordance with ASC 820 "Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures" which defines fair value as the amount that would be exchanged to sell a financial asset or transfer a financial liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. It assumes that the transaction occurs in Nomura's principal market, or in the absence of the principal market, the most advantageous market for the relevant financial assets or financial liabilities.

Information on financial instruments and risk

Most of Nomura's trading activities are client oriented. Nomura utilizes a variety of derivative financial instruments as a means of bridging clients' specific financial needs and investors' demands in the securities markets. Nomura also actively trades securities and various derivatives to assist its clients in adjusting their risk profiles as markets change. In performing these activities, Nomura carries an inventory of capital markets instruments and maintains its access to market liquidity by quoting bid and offer prices to and trading with other market makers. These activities are essential to provide clients with securities and other capital markets products at competitive prices.

In the normal course of business, Nomura enters into transactions involving derivative financial instruments to meet customer needs, for its trading activities and to reduce its own exposure to loss due to adverse fluctuations in interest rates, currency exchange rates and market prices of securities. These financial instruments include contractual agreements such as commitments to swap interest payment streams, exchange currencies or purchase or sell securities and other financial instruments on specific terms at specific future dates. To the extent these derivative financial instruments are economically hedging financial instruments or securities positions of Nomura, the overall risk of loss may be fully or partly mitigated by the hedged position.

Nomura seeks to minimize its exposure to market risk arising from its use of these derivative financial instruments through various control policies and procedures, including position limits, monitoring procedures and hedging strategies whereby Nomura enters into offsetting or other positions in a variety of financial instruments. Counterparty credit risk associated with these financial instruments is controlled by Nomura through credit approvals, limits and monitoring procedures. To reduce default risk, Nomura requires collateral, principally cash collateral and government securities, for certain derivative transactions.

Concentrations of credit risk may arise from trading, securities financing transactions and underwriting activities, and may be impacted by changes in political or economic factors. Nomura has credit risk concentrations on bonds issued by the Japanese Government, U.S. Government, Governments within the European Union and British Government ("EU & U.K."), their states and municipalities, and their agencies. The following table presents geographic allocations of Nomura's trading assets related to government, agency and municipal securities. Nomura's exposure to the over-the-counter derivatives is mainly with the financial institutions in the amount of ¥704.4 billion which represents the net amount after the counterparty netting of derivative assets and liabilities under a master netting agreement as well as cash collateral netting against net derivatives.

Fair value hierarchy

All financial instruments measured at fair value, including those carried at fair value using the fair value option, have been categorized into a three-level hierarchy (“fair value hierarchy”) based on the transparency of valuation inputs used by Nomura to estimate fair value. A financial instrument is classified in the fair value hierarchy based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement of the financial instrument. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are defined as follows, with Level 1 representing the most transparent inputs and Level 3 representing the least transparent inputs:

Level 1:

Observable valuation inputs that reflect quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical financial instruments traded in active markets at the measurement date.

Level 2:

Valuation inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are either directly or indirectly observable for the financial instrument.

Level 3:

Unobservable valuation inputs which reflect Nomura assumptions and specific data.

The following table presents information about Nomura's financial instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis as of March 31, 2026 within the fair value hierarchy.

(1) Represents the amount offset under counterparty netting of derivative assets and liabilities as well as cash collateral netting against net derivatives.

(2) Certain investments that are measured at fair value using net asset value per share as a practical expedient have not been classified in the fair value hierarchy. As of March 31, 2026, the fair values of these investments which are included in Trading assets and private equity and debt investments and Other assets were ¥103.9 billion and ¥15.3 billion, respectively.

(3) Private equity and debt investments are typically private non-traded financial instruments including ownership or other forms of junior capital (such as mezzanine loan). It includes equity investments that would have been accounted for under the equity method had Nomura not chosen to elect the fair value option.

(4) Includes loans for which the fair value option is elected.

(5) Includes collateralized agreements or collateralized financing for which the fair value option is elected.

(6) Includes non-financial assets measured at fair value on a recurring basis.

(7) Includes structured notes for which the fair value option is elected.

(8) Includes embedded derivatives bifurcated from deposits received at banks. If unrealized gains are greater than unrealized losses, deposits are reduced by the excess amount.

(9) Includes embedded derivatives bifurcated from issued structured notes. If unrealized gains are greater than unrealized losses, borrowings are reduced by the excess amount.

(10) Includes liabilities recognized from secured financing transactions that are accounted for as financings rather than sales. Nomura elected the fair value option for these liabilities.

(11) Includes loan commitments for which the fair value option is elected.

Estimated Fair Value

Certain financial instruments are not carried at fair value on a recurring basis in the consolidated balance sheet since they are neither held for trading purposes nor are elected for the fair value option. These are typically carried at contractual amounts due or amortized cost.

The carrying value of the majority of the financial instruments detailed below will approximate fair value since they are short-term in nature and contain minimal credit risk. These financial instruments include financial assets reported within Cash and cash equivalents, Time deposits, Deposits with stock exchanges and other segregated cash, Receivables from customers, Receivables from other than customers, Securities purchased under agreements to resell and Securities borrowed and financial liabilities reported within Short-term borrowings, Payables to customers, Payables to other than customers, Deposits received at banks, Securities sold under agreements to repurchase, Securities loaned and Other secured borrowings in the consolidated balance sheet.

The estimated fair values of other financial instruments which are longer-term in nature or may contain more than minimal credit risk may be different to their carrying value. Financial assets of this type primarily include certain loans which are reported within Loans receivable while financial liabilities primarily include long-term borrowings which are reported within Long-term borrowings. In our financial instruments, the instruments which have a material difference between the carrying value and the estimated fair value are long-term borrowings. For long-term borrowings, certain financial instruments including structured notes are carried at fair value under the fair value option. Except for those instruments, long-term borrowings are carried at contractual amounts or amortized cost unless such borrowings are designated as the hedged item in a fair value hedge. The fair value of long-term borrowings which are not elected for the fair value option is estimated using quoted market prices where available or by discounting future cash flows. As of March 31, 2026, the carrying values of long-term borrowings were ¥15,545.0 billion and the fair values or estimated fair values of long-term borrowings were ¥15,561.9 billion.

Maturities tables of long-term borrowings

The aggregate annual maturities of long-term borrowings, including adjustments related to fair value hedges and liabilities measured at fair value, as of March 31, 2026 consist of the following:

Year ending March 31	Billions of yen
2027	1,431.9
2028	1,759.7
2029	1,862.5
2030	1,754.8
2031	1,973.3
2032 and thereafter	6,217.4
Sub-Total	14,999.6
Trading balances of secured borrowings	545.4
Total	15,545.0

Trading balances of secured borrowings

These are liabilities recognized when a transfer of a financial asset does not meet the criteria for sales accounting under ASC 860 and therefore the transaction is accounted for as a secured borrowing. These borrowings are part of Nomura's trading activities intended to generate profits from the distribution of financial products secured by those financial assets.
