

Nomura Appoints Imran Razvi as Global Execution Services Technology Head

New York, October 16, 2025—Nomura today announced the appointment of Imran Razvi as Head of Global Execution Services Technology. Global Execution Services brings together the strengths of Nomura and Instinet to deliver a wide range of global trading and technology solutions in one seamless client experience. In this role, Razvi will be responsible for accelerating Nomura's technical capabilities while driving standardization and scalability of the platform.

Razvi will be based in New York, reporting to Sameer Jain, Wholesale Chief Information Officer, and working closely with Richard Parsons, Chief Executive Officer, Instinet.

"I am excited to have Imran lead a culture of continuous innovation and accelerate the delivery of best-in-class products to our clients," said Sameer Jain, Wholesale Chief Information Officer. "His deep technical expertise and strategic mindset will be invaluable as we continue to grow and scale our Execution platform."

Razvi joins Nomura with nearly 20 years of experience in Execution Services Technology. Most recently, he served as Global Head of Cash Equities Trading Engines, Architecture, and Frameworks, and Head of Americas Cash Equities Technology at Bank of America, where he delivered the global technology strategy for algorithmic trading and oversaw cross-asset expansion to support Futures, FX, and Electronic Rates businesses.

"We are a technology-led business, and Imran will play a key role in achieving our strategic goals in Global Execution Services," said Richard Parsons, Chief Executive Officer, Instinet. "He will be instrumental in helping us to drive platform efficiency and deliver innovative solutions that meet the evolving needs of our clients."

The appointment underscores Nomura's significant investment in Global Execution Services and commitment to advancing technology as a driver of growth, while reinforcing the firm's focus on strengthening and scaling its execution platform and delivering best-in-class products to clients globally.
