Drivers of International Pre-Tax

1. Organic Client Growth
   - Aligning ourselves to industry fee pools of greatest opportunity
   - Deepening relationships with clients that most value our capabilities

2. Monetizing Moody’s Upgrade
   - Derivatives with Real Money accounts
   - Increased business with Central Banks and Sovereign Wealth Funds
   - Structured products with Banks / Private Banks

3. Cross-Divisional & Cross-Regional Growth
   - Growth in Origination through collaboration between GM and IBD
   - Developing alternative revenue streams e.g. Fund structures with Asset Management
   - Connecting clients with the East- West revenue opportunity

4. Business Optimization
   - Turnaround in International Equities
   - Focusing financial resources to areas with highest risk-adjusted returns
   - Front-to-Back Optimization

Client Revenue Uplift from Moody’s Rating Upgrade

Focus Areas for Monetisation

Real Money Accounts
- Expanding our swaps and derivatives business with top-tier asset managers
- Significant momentum in onboarding target accounts and executing first trades

Central Banks & Sovereign Wealth Funds
- Increased business with central banks and flagship public clients as we now meet their minimum rating criteria
- Swaps and repos key areas of opportunity

Structured Products
- Delivering customized hedges and solutions for Banks and Corporates
- Access to a larger universe of investors for distribution of structured products including Nomura notes

Mid-Tier Financial Institutions
- Servicing rising demand for liability-driven solutions
- A number of Asian and European banks agreeing to extend credit lines for longer durations to Nomura
Cross-Divisional Collaboration: Unlocking Future Potential

Global Industry Fee Pools¹: Cross-Divisional Opportunity

- Targeting increased share of origination revenues
- Joint planning and tracking for Global Finance²
- Aligning senior relationships and priority client coverage e.g. joint Financial Institutions Group (FIG) initiative in Europe
- Product development collaboration with Asset Management Division to service fast rising investor demand for alternatives and solutions
- Developing fund product based recurring revenue streams as the GM business model evolves
- Servicing the shifting and increasingly international portfolio preferences of clients on Nomura’s Retail platform
- Participating in the rising demand for GM products by Private Wealth managers in Asia

2. Source: Bloomberg
Significant transformation achieved: 3rd consecutive year of profitability, based on stable, high quality revenues, a significantly lower break-even point, improved productivity and a more focused international footprint

Execution on strategic agenda: ‘Root & Branch’ Global Markets integration, client centricity, focus on Asian cross-regional flows, rigorous discipline on expenses, financial resources and risk, underpinned by solid infrastructure & controls

Well-positioned for medium term upside: tailwinds from the internationalization of Japan real-money portfolios, continued deepening of capital markets across Asia, a shifting global Macro environment, and further upside from cost optimization (e.g. ‘Front-to-Back’ Optimization) opportunities
