Chance to Shine

Impacts 70 young people

- Chance to Shine aims to give every young person the opportunity to play and learn through cricket. Its mission is to spread the power of cricket in schools and communities, inspiring 1 million more young people by 2020. The charity delivers two main programmes, a Schools Programme to provide cricketing opportunities in state schools and a Street Programme engaging young people through cricket in disadvantaged areas.
- Chance to Shine was awarded £27,000 to support the provision of the Street Community Project and Employability Training in Tower Hamlets, engaging 35 young people, as well as reaching out to new participants through projects in Lambeth and Waltham Forest, targeting a further 65 young people.

The Barbican

Impacts 2,000 young people

- Alongside the Barbican's international arts programme, for thirty years they have also delivered community projects across east London. Seven years ago this was strengthened when they joined forces with the Guildhall School (GSMD) under a joint 'Creative Learning' team. This alliance draws together GSMD's academic expertise and reputation and the Barbican's international artistic breadth. With a key focus on young people, schools and teachers, they aim to enhance employability potential, raise aspirations and build skills for success.
- The Barbican was awarded a grant of £25,000 to support the pilot year of a new, curriculum wide learning project called the 'Associates Schools Programme'. The project involves working closely with three schools through provision of artistic, cultural and educational attainment across curriculum areas.
